Re: Ms. Sigal Imberg

Ms. Sigal Imberg has been working at our institution since year 2000. In the course of her work Sigal provides treatment to our resident children by means of Relaxation Therapy.

The basis of her work is the Alexander Technique, but Sigal has cleverly developed advanced treatments using various touch methods which are adapted to the specific and particular needs of those at-risk children residing with us.

Sigal's work is characterized by her intensive devotion and diligence, and a remarkable connection with the children under her care, including those children whose emotional and functional conditions are the most difficult.

The methods developed by Sigal, while using incredible depth and creativity, led to the development of special syllabi now employed in the training sessions given by Sigal to the other staff members of our campus. This process continued and evolved to the point that we arrived at a decision to open specialized courses in Touch Therapy under the personal direction of Sigal.

Sigal has administered relaxation therapy to our staff members who are very much in need of such activity due to the demanding line of work in which they are engaged. We see in Sigal a person of values, a highly professional individual, and an eminent member of our professional treatment infrastructure.

Sincerely,

Yoav Apelboim
